MESSAGE from the FESTIVAL DIRECTOR

Welcome to "An International Audio Visual Retrospective" organised by The Royal Photographic Society's Audio Visual Group. The event came about following a decision at a Committee meeting of the AV Group at which it was agreed to postpone the 2020 RPS International Audio Visual Festival (IAVF) due to the Coronavirus pandemic, until 2021. Alastair Taylor, AV News Editor, came up with the idea of having a Retrospective and the Committee all agreed it was an excellent suggestion. Like the IAVF this has been a team effort and I will be writing an article for the next AV News about the organisation of the Retrospective. In the meantime I'd like to thank Alastair Taylor for the idea and hosting the event on Zoom; Andrew Gagg for designing and preparing the graphics; Jill Bunting and John Smith for "projecting" the AVs; Linda Gibbs for preparing this Programme, introducing the AVs and publicity; Sheila Haycox for publishing everything about the event and the IAVF on the RPS website and organising the booking portal.

I am also very grateful to the authors who accepted my invitation to send me their AVs. Also thanks to their efforts I found very few challenges in proofing their sequences.

I hope you enjoy the Retrospective; which I'm sure will be a very successful online event.
