

NOTES FOR PARTICIPANTS

Before you book a place on a Creative Eye Group field trip or event, please read and accept the following guidance.

Type of event: Please make sure that the event you are considering is suitable for your requirements in term of terrain, physical demands and interest.

Outdoor event: Some of our events involve locations which can be hazardous e.g. because of uneven ground, slippery surfaces etc. Please ensure that you wear suitable footwear.

If you have limited mobility and wish to know more about the terrain in advance, please contact the event organiser.

The British weather can be unpredictable, so please make sure that you bring suitable clothing and ensure that your camera equipment is suitably protected.

You are responsible for your own health and safety and must appraise your own strength, fitness and mobility. The event organiser is not responsible for your safety and welfare.

The Royal Photographic Society will not accept responsibility for any accident, loss, injury or damage resulting from an accident or from inappropriate behavior, dress or equipment, or in any cause. You are advised to have your own suitable insurance for any trip or event.

Joining instructions: Our events will have the place and meeting time specified on the 'Event' section of the Creative Eye Group's website at www.rps.org/creativeeye the Creative Eye magazine and in the event listing in the RPS Journal.

The event organiser may email you shortly before the event with more detailed instructions. Please keep an eye on your incoming emails prior to the event. If you do not receive any specific instructions from the event organiser, then you should meet at the time and place advertised.

Cancellation by you: If you wish to cancel your booking, please inform the event organiser as soon as possible. This will avoid delaying the start of the event while they wait for you.

If you have paid for an event, please inform the event organiser if you are unable to attend. There will be no refund for non-attendance (exceptions at the discretion of the event organiser).

Cancellation by us: Event organisers' are asked to make plans for alternative activities or locations in the case of bad weather or unforeseen circumstances. However, this is not always possible, and the event may have to be cancelled. In this case, we will give you as much notice as we are able and any payment by you to the Creative Eye Group in respect be refunded in full.

Motor vehicles: Some events involve moving from one location to another. Please only offer lifts to others if you have suitable insurance cover. If you accept a lift from another participant, you do so at your own risk.
