An exhibition by photographers affected by homelessness

January 2022
(Opening 6th January)

Over the past 2 years, mentors from the London region of the Royal Photographic Society in conjunction with Cafe Art have been helping a group of photographers affected by homelessness. Running the group, online during lockdowns and in person at all other times, mentors have been improving participants photographic skills and confidence during a very difficult period.

This exhibition showcases 12 of the photographers work, with each photographer displaying a set of 4 photographs taken during this period.
