

Volunteer Role Description: Secretary Groups/Regions

About the Royal Photographic Society

The Royal Photographic Society is a registered charity which aims to educate members of the public, promote the highest standards of photography and encourage public appreciation of photography. The Society was established in 1853 and has over 10,000 members in the UK and abroad. It is the UK's leading photography organisation, realising its aims through a combination of workshops and courses, competitions and touring exhibitions, a distinctions and qualifications programme, and an annual awards ceremony.

About this role

The role of the secretary is to support the chair in ensuring the smooth functioning of the Committee. The secretary has responsibility for the day-to-day administration for the committee. We are looking for someone with good organisational and communicational skills with an eye for detail.

Please note: to volunteer for this role, you must be a current member of the Society.

Location

Location is unimportant as long as they have a close working relationship with their Group Chair/Regional Organiser.
